SENATE CONFIRMS THE APPOINTMENT

United States Senate Confirms the Appointment of Charles S. Duncan as Postmaster at Gettysburg. Will Welcome Suggestions.

The United States Senate on Monday afternoon confirmed the appointment of Charles S. Duncan, Esq., as postmaster at Gettysburg. Mr. Duncan's name was sent to that body by President Wilson several months ago but the final confirmation was delayed until Monday.

Mr. Duncan, when interviewed by a reporter for The Times, said that he wanted to extend his thanks to his many friends who had supported and assisted him in obtaining the position of Postmaster. He said that he intended to use all his efforts to make the management of the office as beneficial as possible in every way for its patrons, and that he will gladly at any time welcome any suggestions that may help to bring this about. He will be glad, indeed, to hear any complaint that may be submitted to him and will do all in his power to contribute to the convenience and accommodation of the patrons of the office.

The Gettysburg post office carries a salary of about $2500 annually. The salary is based on the amount of business of the year preceding and, by reason of the immense amount of business at Gettysburg, on account of the battle anniversary celebration last summer, it is likely that Mr. Duncan's salary for the first year of his term will be in the neighborhood of $2700. The Department prepares the bond of the new postmaster and, as soon as it is properly executed, it will be returned by Mr. Duncan who will then receive his commission. Upon the receipt of this he will at once take charge of the office.

CRITICISE PRESIDENT

Dickinson College May Have New Head. Some Dissatisfied.

Members of the board of trustees and graduates of Dickinson College are stirred by a movement which has been started for the removal of Dr. Edgar Noble as president of that institution. A trustee said that this condition was the result of financial difficulties the college was facing. The situation came to light with a report from Carlisle, that members of the faculty had gone to Philadelphia for a conference with several of the trustees. Criticism of Doctor Noble as head of the institution has been made, according to two of the trustees, and many of those interested in the welfare of the college have expressed the opinion that he cannot command the financial support which another might secure.

PAROLE AGAIN DISREGARDED

Board of Health Has Further Trouble on Account of Failure of Paroled Man to Appear for Examination. Warrant is Issued.

That the Board of Health proposes to enforce strictly the provisions of the small pox parole, which the employees at the brick plant were expected to observe, was shown again this morning when Dr. Henry Stewart, secretary, secured a warrant for the arrest of Earl Heller.

Heller is one of the men who was supposed to call every other day for examination so that any symptoms of small pox might be detected as soon as they manifested themselves. Monday evening he failed to appear for this periodical examination and the securing of the warrant followed this morning.

Heller lived in the same building at the brick plant as that occupied by E. Wolf, who was arrested on Monday charged with breaking quarantine. It is said that Heller violated this quarantine, also, but that is not the charge brought against him, the violation of the parole being the only thing to which he will have to answer.

In order to prevent the release of the men on bail the Board of Health establishes a quarantine in their cells at the county jail and they will be compelled to remain there until the period of quarantine is over. If they can secure bail at that time they will be released. Otherwise they will have to remain until their cases are disposed of.

The regular period of parole terminates on Wednesday so that it is not expected their incarceration will be very long, as both men will likely be released on bail at the end of the quarantine period.

GRADUATED EIGHT

Third Annual Commencement at Arendtsville High School.

The third annual commencement of the Arendtsville High School was held in the Lutheran Church at that place Monday evening. The auditorium was tastefully decorated with the graduates' class colors, blue and gold. The church, which seats between five and six hundred people, was filled to its capacity. The graduates performed their parts in a creditable manner to a very appreciative audience. H. C. Lary, the Primary teacher, deserves much credit for the way in which the chorus of High School pupils, under his direction, rendered the music.

Rev. J. B. Baker, of Gettysburg, the speaker of the evening, had the close attention of his audience and gave to the class some very wholesome advice. He pointed out to the class in a forceful way the things which bring success and which crown a successful life.

Prof. Roth in presenting the diplomas encouraged the directors in their effort to improve the educational facilities of the borough, and urged the young people to take advantage of the High School course.

The following received diplomas: Clarence Guy Carey, Rosalie Antonette Cole, Maud Marie Pensyl, Pearl Elizabeth Kuhn, Ethel Marie Cole, Gilbert Carey Hoffman, John Roger Witmer, Earl Robert Myers.

All took part in the exercises and the Junior response was made by Miss Mary A. Lady. Clarence G. Carey was valedictorian.

Oliver Miller Found Guilty of Assault on Joseph Plank. Sponseller Cases Next. Roads in Town and Townships to be Repaired.

April session of Adams County Court opened on Monday and several cases were called for trial the first day.

The first case tried was that of the Commonwealth against Oliver Miller charged with assault on Joseph Plank. It will be recalled that the assault occurred early last summer at the time operations were in progress at the veterans' camp. Plank was severely injured. Miller has been out on bail.

Miller was represented by Edward A. Weaver Esq., and District Attorney Wible conducted the case for the Commonwealth. The following jury found the defendant guilty: Ellis Miller, Lawrence M. Rebert, M. C. Topper, Henry S. Bucher, Raymond Dear-dorff, Jesse H. Little, Harry McQuighan, Emory Sell, Robert Geesy, Fred W. Morrison, James Wise, and William L. Bushey.

The cases against the Sponseller family--the father, John Sponseller Sr., and his three sons, John Jr., Charles and Eli, were next listed. All are charged with thefts of various articles. The first case called was that against Charles and Eli. It is understood that the latter will enter a plea of guilty and Charles Sponseller is being tried alone. Raymond F. Topper Esq. represents the defendant and District Attorney Wible the Commonwealth.

The following compose the jury: George F. Krug, Joseph Weaver, L. L. Lerew, Edward Munmer, William Beiter, John H. Elime, C. M. Stough, Murray Bish, William Weigle, William P. Becker, Jesse Millhimes and Jacob Taylor. The case is now on trial.

At the opening session of Court on Monday the District Attorney was directed to notify the street commissioner of Gettysburg to put in proper condition York and Hanover streets from the fork of the roads to Rock Creek.

A process was awarded for the supervisors of Hamilton township on account of the bad condition of highway in their district. Process was awarded for the supervisors of Latimore township on account of the dangerous condition of a bridge in their district.

The resignation of C. D. Graft, constable of McSherrystown, was accepted to take effect at once.

George Gordon and Preston S. Peters were chosen as tipstaves for the first week of Court.

The report of the viewers on a road in Menallen township was received and confirmed nisi, the road to be opened to the width of 33 feet. The report of viewers for a road in Liberty township was ordered filed and confirmed nisi.

Criminal Court will likely be finished to-day and there are only a few civil suits listed for trial.

PECULIAR SICKNESS

The children taken ill were Miss Marie Codori, Joseph, Robert and Katharine Codori.

SEE LITTLE CHANCE FOR MEDIATION

War Talk Prevails as Envoys Meet.

HUERTA ACCEPTS PLAN

Germany, France and Britain Urged Him to Agree.

ARMY PLANS UNCHANGED

Funston Put in Charge of All Land Forces at Vera Cruz.

U. S. Terms For Peace.

The fundamental principles upon which the United States government is willing to enter upon negotiations for establishing peace in Mexico through the exercise of good offices by neutral nations were said unofficially to be these:

1. The inclusion in the Mexican exchanges of the Constitutionalists and other factions that are opposing the Huerta government. Zapata and his followers may or may not be regarded as among the parties to a settlement.
2. The establishment of constitutional government, which carries with it the elimination of Huerta from office in power.
3. Probably a settlement of the situation produced by the demand of the United States that "the authority of General Huerta" furnish suitable reparation for the indignity offered to the American flag.
4. An agreement between all parties, including the United States, for a cessation of hostilities, pending the outcome of the effort of settlement through mediation.

Washington, April 28.—Huerta's formal acceptance of the mediation proposal was received by Senor Riano, the Spanish ambassador, and was immediately forwarded by him to the representatives of the three South American governments which had offered their good offices.

Ambassador Da Gama, of Brazil, lost no time in calling his two colleagues in the diplomatic service, Ministers Naom, of Argentina, and Suarez, of Chile, in conference, and at a late hour they were still discussing the reply from Huerta's minister of foreign affairs.

Secretary of State Bryan was in communication with the diplomats, and it was reported that he had been called to the conference.

No official information was given out in regard to the character of Huerta's reply except that it constituted a formal acceptance by him of the proposal to mediate the present crisis.

The receipt of Huerta's reply followed close upon the disclosure in Washington of the fact that England, Germany and France have been exercising great pressure upon him to consent to a peaceful settlement of the present difficulties.

While the three South American mediators were in conference diplomats of every shade in Washington entertained the most pessimistic of opinions.

It is quite generally felt that too wide a gulf lays between the standpoint of the United States and that of General Huerta to be bridged over by the Pan-American mediation. It is said one of these diplomats, as if Huerta "is to be invited to step out and commit political suicide—and to expect him to accept the invitation."

Since the announcement of the acceptance of the mediation proposals by this government there have been misunderstandings as to what the original agreement as to good offices involved.

The fact is that no formal conditions have been made by the South American envoys who propose mediation, either to Huerta or to the United States.

Under no circumstances would the envoys suggest any stipulations to either side until each side to the international controversy had accepted the proffer of good offices.

Meanwhile the navy and war departments are continuing their efforts to care for refugees and perfecting the machinery of the army and navy for any unexpected turn in events.

Secretary Daniels announced that he had telegraphed the full text of the mediation offer and its acceptance by the United States to both Rear Admirals Badger and Howard, with instructions to have the commanders of all ships on the east and west spread the news throughout Mexico. By this Mr. Daniels hopes the feeling toward Americans may be alleviated and refugees enabled to depart without molestation.

FUNSTON TO COMMAND AT VERA CRUZ

Marines Will be Temporarily Placed in the Army.

Washington, April 28.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston will command all of the shore forces at Vera Cruz.

The question of supreme command ashore was determined when orders were issued detaching all the marines on land from the navy and assigning them temporarily to the army.

All the bluejackets are to be returned to their ships, and Admiral Fletcher will go back to his flagship after turning over the shore command.

General Barnett, commandant of the Marine Corps, issued the order by direction of the president, Admiral Badger will retain command of all forces afloat.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced that he contemplated issuing no new orders to the navy pending the outcome of the efforts being made to settle the Mexican trouble by mediation.

"We already have enough vessels in Mexican waters, or on the way, to meet any situation that might arise," he said, "and unless an unexpected emergency develops the navy will 'stand pat' and await the outcome of the mediation project."

RENEW BATTLE AT TAMPIOCO

Constitutionalists Continue Attack on Gulf City Held by Federals.

Washington, April 28.—Constitutionalists at Tampico are continuing their attack on the city, according to a dispatch from Admiral Mayo, received at the navy department.

"The American consul at Tampico," the dispatch continues, "is now on board the Dolphin, with the consular force on the Des Moines. The North Dakota has arrived at Tampico and general conditions are reported good."

Thousands of gallons of oil are spreading over the land around Tampico and it is feared that it will be ignited, which would flow to Tampico, entirely consuming that city.

Mexican Federal soldiers demolished the faucets checking and governing the flow of oil from the wells, and two enormous gushers are now spouting the inflammable substance.

The navy department has received a request from the oil interests in New York, with property in the Tampico district, that an American force be sent to rescue 100 employees now on oil lands about seventy-five miles southwest of Tampico. The request says that the men are well armed, but are unable to get to the American ships because of the fighting.

Street fighting between the Federals and Constitutionalists in the city was reported at Constitutional headquarters in Washington. Five thousand Constitutionalists soldiers invaded the city from the north and west and captured the outlying sections. Only the briefest details of what is supposed to be a sanguinary conflict have been received in Washington.

All Americans have been removed from the Tampico district, according to reports received from Admiral Mayo through Admiral Badger.

Admiral Badger further reports that the steamer Mexico has left Vera Cruz for New Orleans with 293 refugees and the collier Jason has sailed from Tuxpan for the same place with 361 refugees.

The inhabitants have given up 400 rifles, 1200 revolvers, 1000 machetes, twenty-four boxes of gunpowder and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

REBEL LEADERS MAY BREAK

Crisis in Relations of Villa and Carranza Reached.

CONFERRING AT CHIHUAHUA

Villa's Pacific Attitude Towards the United States Is Meeting With Opposition.

El Paso, Tex., April 28.—Americans are speculating on the danger that may come to the border following the conference at Chihuahua between General Venustiano Carranza and Pancho Villa.

Carranza has informed the United States that it must evacuate Vera Cruz. Villa has declared that he hopes the United States continued to hold Vera Cruz.

Villa, after conferring with American friends and George C. Carothers, representing Secretary of State Bryan, left for Chihuahua. Villa carried a carload of ammunition with him.

From Chihuahua came the report that while Villa has been on the border Carranza adherents have been undermining his popularity with stories that he is making an alliance with the "gringos," and that he will make slaves of the Mexicans.

The report says that Maclovio Herrera, one of Villa's generals, is opposed to Villa's pacific attitude towards the United States, and that General Manuel Chao, Villa's military governor of Chihuahua, is also inclined to side with Carranza. Herrera is selected chief military officer of the north, according to Carranza's program. But Villa's friends say that if any such intrigue is under way "Villa will have the whole bunch in jail."

Villa's attitude towards the Americans, on its face appears to be sincere. He has sent the following message to all his commanders: "Respect and show every courtesy to citizens of the United States; give assistance."

Americans continue to quit northern Mexico as rapidly as possible. With the hebra of Americans come the paralysis of all industries in the state of Chihuahua. The closing down of the biggest industries in the state is already creating a serious condition of affairs for the Constitutionalists. At Parral alone 2500 Mexicans were thrown out of work by the shutting down of the mines, mills, lumber camps and the Durango railroad.

Refugees from Torreon report that the rebel troops are maintaining excellent order throughout the Laguna district. There are 18,000 troops in the district. More than 3000 Federal prisoners have joined the rebels.

REBELS WON'T HELP HUERTA

Carranza's Brother Favors "Hands Off" Policy.

Brownsville, Tex., April 28.—General Jesus Carranza, of Matamoros, Mex. brother of General Venustiano Carranza, told a delegation of Brownsville citizens that the Mexican Constitution favors a "hands off" policy in the present trouble between General Huerta and the United States.

Carranza made it plain that the Constitutionalists feel that if they join Huerta in his argument with the United States it will mean the cutting off of their supplies.

Carranza invited the Brownsville people to visit Matamoros, and declared that any Mexican caught speaking disparagingly of the American soldiers would be put in jail.

FIREBUG CONFESSES

Admits Starting $200,000 Blaze That Killed 1000 Cattle.

Peoria, Ill., April 28.—W. H. Pogle, discharged member of the fire department, confessed to firing the cattle sheds of the Morris Cattle company last Monday, which caused a loss of $200,000 and resulted in 1000 cattle being burned to death.

Pogleson was discharged from the fire department two weeks ago, when it was charged he had a mania for turning in false alarms.

Refugees Reach New Orleans.

New Orleans, April 28.—The British steamer Wyvibrook has arrived here with twenty-two refugees from Mexico. The vessel sails between Gulf ports and Progreso. As that section of Mexico is comparatively quiet it is believed these Americans left more from fear of what might happen than because of immediate danger.

Embezzling Cashier Cuts Seven Years.

Toms River, N. J., April 28.—William F. Simmons, former cashier of the Ocean County Trust company, of this place, pleaded guilty to embezzlement and to making false returns to the state banking commission. He was sentenced to serve not less than two and not more than seven years in the state penitentiary on each indictment.

REFUGEES SAY HUERTA WILL BE OUSTED

Frederico Gamboa Named to Supplant Him.

Vera Cruz, April 28.—Victoriano Huerta will voluntarily abdicate or he will be forced out with violence within a few days, according to American refugees who arrived on a special train from the capital.

Frederico Gamboa, former minister of foreign affairs, once governor of Yucatan and candidate of the Catholic party at Huerta's election, is named as the man to supplant him.

According to the refugees anti-Huerta sentiment has so crystallized at the capital that on Sunday the conspirators made an attempt to oust the dictator, but failed. They do not go into details and admit that they have only a rumor of it. They are certain, however, that Huerta is becoming more and more unpopular, because the better class of Mexicans are finding out that the administration has deliberately deceived them with regard to the action of the United States. The truth about Vera Cruz has reached the capital and has aided in bringing about a revulsion of sentiment or at least an abatement of the patriotic frenzy.

Conditions at the capital are improving because of the change of sentiment, say the refugees. There are still anti-American demonstrations, but they go no farther than the satirical stage.

Twenty-one Americans arrived in Vera Cruz on the train, and they all came as British subjects, bearing British flags.

Conditions are improving at the capital. So far as the refugees knew no foreigner has been killed and none injured, although many were insulted.

A number of women, headed by Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, the wife of the American charge d'affaires at Mexico City, are organizing a corps of Red Cross nurses to aid the authorities in Vera Cruz in taking care of the sick and wounded.

It is reported that the British subjects in Mexico City have been disarmed because they were "too friendly to the Americans."

To Move Mexican Prisoners.

San Antonio, Tex., April 28.—Orders were received by Brigadier General Bliss to move the 5000 Mexicans now held at Fort Bliss, on the border, to Fort Wingate, New Mexico, under a guard of two companies of the Twelfth cavalry. Texas cities have repeatedly protested against holding the Mexicans near the border, claiming that they offered constant temptation to Mexicans to come across the border and release them.

Rebels Protect Stars and Stripes.

Washington, April 28.—American Consul Hostetter telegraphed to the state department that Generals Obregon and Alvarado, of the Mexican Constitutionalists, had notified their forces in the state of Sonora that any demonstrations against Americans and seditious speeches would be punished by hanging.

HUERTA TO FREE ALL AMERICANS

Bryan Announces Completion of the Plan.

180 ARRIVE AT VERA CRUZ

Remnant of American Colony to Leave Mexico City—All Have Left Tampico.

Washington, April 28.—Secretary of State Bryan announced that arrangements had been completed to permit all Americans in Mexico City to leave there.

Seven hundred American men and women are preparing to go, comprising the last remnants of the American colony.

The announcement followed a conference with President Wilson and relieved to a great extent the fear that Huerta would hold many Americans in his capital and elsewhere as hostages to prevent an attack on Mexico City or other offensive operations by the Americans.

The first result of this change in attitude was the arrival of 180 American refugees from Mexico City at Vera Cruz. Two hundred and seventy Mexicans left Vera Cruz for Mexico City.

An official dispatch from Admiral Badger to the navy department declared that the authorities in Mexico City had agreed to provide transportation for all Americans from Mexico City as far as Soledad, the Mexican controlled end of the railroad to Vera Cruz. The success of negotiations in this connection was highly gratifying to the president and Secretary Bryan, who have been especially concerned over the detention of Americans by Huerta.

Secretary Bryan said that, so far as authentic information was concerned, he knew of no American citizen having been killed in Mexico City or elsewhere in the Mexican republic within the last few days. Through the efforts of the British embassy and the British legation in Mexico City the impression that Mexicans were detained at Vera Cruz by the Americans had been removed.

Mr. Bryan said efforts were still making to obtain the release of the thirty-three Americans detained at Aguas Calientes, and those held up on the railroad between Mexico City and Vera Cruz.

American Consul Hostetter telegraphed that Generals Obregon and Alvarado, of the Mexican Constitutionallists, had notified their forces in the state of Sonora that any demonstration against Americans or seditious speeches would likely lead to hanging.

W. W. Canada, United States consul at Vera Cruz, reported to the state department that conditions in Mexico City were better and that all Americans are safe and well.

A report received at the department from Consul Simpich, at Nogales, reports that between 400 and 500 Americans have left for the border. Twenty-five Americans, he says, refused to leave.

It also was announced that no more Americans remained in Tampico, although the British cruiser Hermlone, off that port, has 1141 Americans on board. This was based upon a report from Rear Admiral Badger at Vera Cruz. Two thousand refugees are reported on the way north from Tampico, while it is believed that at least 1000 Americans who were in Huerta's capital on Wednesday have safely arrived in Vera Cruz.

THROW CONSUL IN PRISON

Huerta General Seizes U. S. Official and Two Newspaper Correspondents.

Vera Cruz, April 28.—John R. Silliman, the American consul at Saltillo, and two American newspaper correspondents have been jailed at Saltillo by order of General Joaquin Maas.

The charges against the men are not known. General Maas is the commander of Huerta's troops.

Huerta Men Jail Americans.

Brownsville, Tex., April 28.—An anti-American demonstration, in which the Stars and Stripes were dragged through the streets and imprecations hurled at all "gringos" was described here by refugees arriving on the first train from Monterey, captured several days ago by the Constitutionallists.

The demonstration was said to have been led by the Huerta governor of Nuevo Leon and the Federal commander of the Monterey garrison in a vain attempt to unite the battling factions before the opening assault on the town.

Next day, said the refugees, United States Consul Philip C. Hanna and ten other Americans were thrown into the city prison.

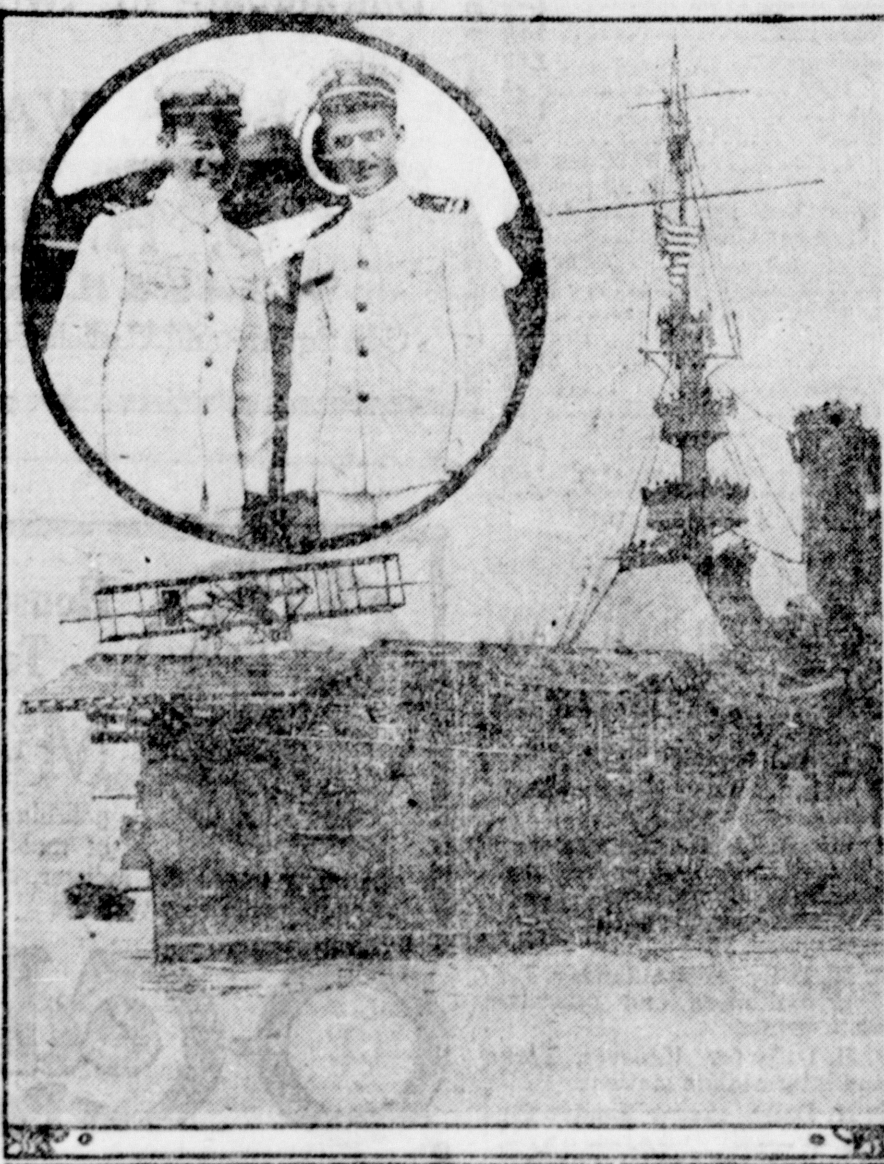

Wilson Stops Talking.

Washington, April 28.—President Wilson cancelled his regular weekly conference with newspaper men because of the Mexican crisis. To friends the president let it be known that advances reaching Washington that General Huerta would accept the good offices of Brazil, Chile and Argentina in an effort to compose the Mexican difficulty was very pleasing to him.

Destroyers and Aeroplanes In the Mexican Blockade

Navy Has Efficient Corps of Fliers—Battle-ship Mississippi "Mother Ship." The Destroyer Fleet

IF Mexico were a great naval power, possessing a noteworthy fleet instead of a dozen or so insignificant gunboats and antiquated harbor "defenders," the issues between that country and the United States might be tried out in salvos between the guns of Mexican warships and those on America's battleships. But Mexico cannot face the United States for one minute at sea, and the result of war moves between the two countries depends upon operations on land and in the air.

Even in the atmosphere Mexico is outclassed, since the United States far surpasses her in the number of aeroplanes available for war duty. Of military machines the United States has but very few compared with any of the great European powers, but in comparison with Mexico we have enough and to spare, it is believed.

There have been accounts of aviators acting as scouts for both the federalists and Constitutionallists in the recent troubles in Mexico, but they have accomplished very little and have made little more than exhibition flights. To offset these the United States has both army and navy aeroplanes and aviators to call upon. Flights above the army camp at Texas City, on the Mexican border, have been of daily occurrence, and the aviators will constitute a valuable "arm" of the service. They are a part of the signal corps of the army, which is headed by Brigadier General George P. Scriven.

The Navy's Fliers.

The navy has its own distinctive corps of fliers, trained in the art or science of landing on and flying from the deck of a vessel. They are thus in a way "homeing" birds. Also they can alight on the water in their hydroaeroplanes when need comes and rise therefrom. The "mother" ship of the navy aviators is the old battleship Mississippi, which was assigned to that service several months ago and left the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, in January, 1914, to conduct experiments in naval aviation.

The Mississippi carried eight airships and a crew of nine air men, who have been making experiments with airships that naval men believe will have a great effect upon the future operations of all the great fleets of the world. All sorts of experiments in lighting upon ships and launching aeroplanes from ships were conducted with the Mississippi, and a system of aviation regulations and drill was developed by these experiments. The Mississippi is a battleship of 13,000 tons, with a length of 375 feet on load water line. She has a speed of 17.11 knots. She was first commissioned Feb. 1, 1908, and her complement is forty-seven officers and 754 men. Not all of the aeroplanes were on the vessel at one time, of course.

Fleet of Fifty Aeroplanes.

When the battleship fleet was ordered to sail for Tampico orders were sent to the Mississippi, lying at Pensacola, to prepare for service. The ship's commander is Lieutenant Commander Henry C. Mustin. The chief aviator is Lieutenant John H. Towers. Officially the Mississippi is known as the "aeronautic station ship." She is no longer considered a first class fighting ship or even one of the second class, being only about half the size of the New York and the Texas, biggest fighting vessels of the navy. The Mississippi's burden is 13,000 tons.

City Sounds.

tions against Mexico. Not only would it be possible to use these for scout duty, but most of them are heavy enough to carry one or more extra passengers or a supply of bombs for dropping into the ranks or fortifications of the enemy."

No Dirigibles.

It is to be regretted, according to the opinion of Captain Baldwin, that no dirigibles are available for the army. While they probably would not be of any greater value than the aeroplanes, it would be the first real test during hostile operations for this type of aircraft and would be of great value to the war department in determining its future policy concerning the development of the aero corps.

Captain Baldwin is confident in the belief that the war department will not be compelled to accept the services of the country's many aero pilots.

It was reported at Hempstead, N. Y., that an aeroplane company had sold and delivered to General Huerta one of the latest type monoplanes and that another which had been ordered could not now be delivered.

At the same time as the orders went from Washington to prepare the Mississippi's naval hydroaeroplanes for duty Captain William S. Sims, commander of the torpedo boat flotilla of the Atlantic fleet, was directed to get ready his little sea fighters for immediate service. This, it was explained, clearly indicated the president's intention to blockade Mexican ports on the east coast.

Also at the same time the department ordered 700 marines at Pensacola to sail for Tampico on the battleship Mississippi, which also carried two hydroaeroplanes. The original order instructed the entire corps of navy aviators at Pensacola to embark with their machines on board the Mississippi. Lieutenant Towers, Lieutenant L. B. Smith and Ensign G. de C. Chevalier were designated to operate the air craft.

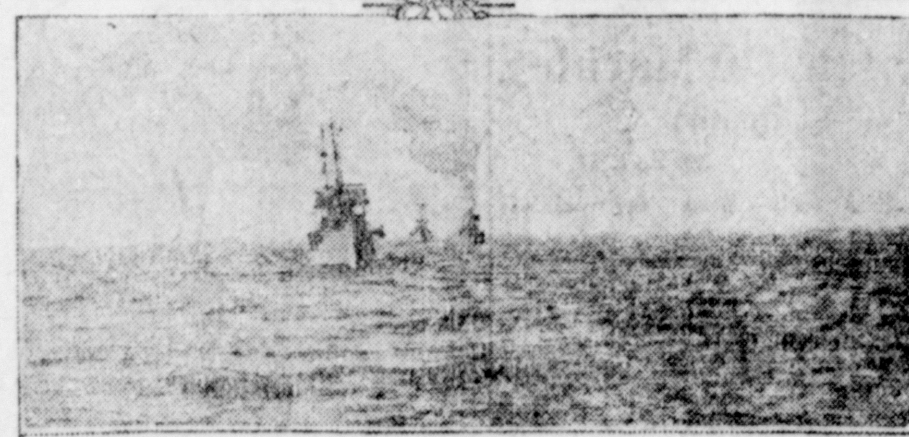

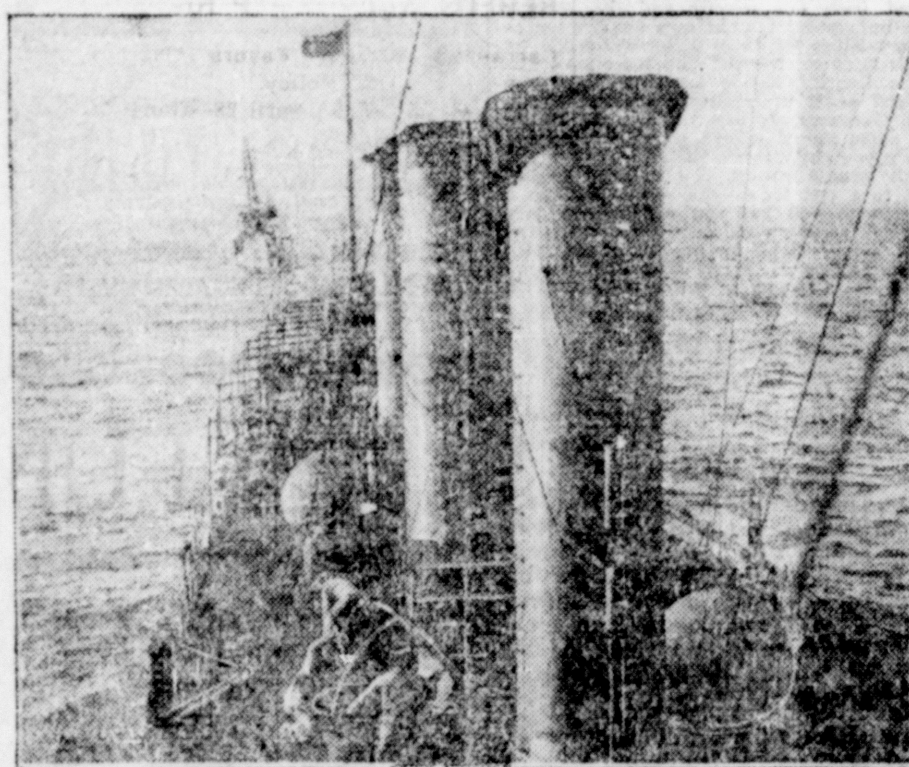

The dispatch of the hydroaeroplanes was taken as an indication that the fortifications of Vera Cruz and the vicinity would be reconnoitered from aloft before a bombardment was ordered. That this would promptly follow any attack on Americans in Mexico City was not denied.

The Swift Destroyers.

The torpedo destroyers are able to make almost twice the speed of a battleship and can go many knots faster than the swiftest scout cruiser in the navy. They are therefore superior in many ways for blockading purposes. The flotilla was intended for distribution along the Mexican coast with a view to daring from port to port as their services might be needed.

All of the boats which sailed from Pensacola under command of Captain William S. Sims are equipped with three torpedo tubes. While the battleships have this equipment the ability to change the position of the vessel is the principal factor in effective torpedo fire. This is practically impossible for the larger ships.

Captain Sims had been requesting for several days that the flotilla be permitted to take part in the naval dem-of inestimable value during active field operations, and added to this, according to Captain Baldwin, would be the volunteer corps of aviators which stands ready at a moment's notice to join the armed forces. These men, Captain Baldwin said, represent the highest type of efficiency to be found in any country in the world.

"The value of the aeroplane in time of war now is recognized as one of the greatest factors that could be employed," said Captain Baldwin. "Aeroplanes were used effectively by Italy during the campaign in Tripoli, but probably the greatest test of their value was made in the recent Balkan hostilities.

"It would be possible to have seventy-five aeroplanes of the most modern build on the border within ten days should it be decided to begin opera-

Housekeeping Is Not the Task It Used to Be

MODERN invention has done away with much of the hard work. For instance, the cleaning and polishing of hardwood floors, the dusting of moldings, the tops of high furniture, the stairs, under the radiator, etc. These back-breaking tasks are now made easy with the

O-Cedar Mop Polish

With it you can dust, clean and polish a hardwood floor in the time it formerly took you to get ready to do it.

Besides, you do not have to get down on your hands and knees to dust under the bed or other hard-to-get-at places, or to stand on a chair to dust the top of the high furniture. All of the hard work is now made easy with the O-Cedar Polish Mop. It gathers all the dust or dirt from everywhere and holds it. The mop is easily cleaned by washing and then renewed by pouring on a few drops of O-Cedar Polish.

Try It at Our Risk. Try it two whole days with this understanding: If you do not find it satisfactory in every respect we will return your money. The price is only $1.50 and it will save its price many times over in a short time.

We'd Rather Make Ten Sales, Each With a Dollar Profit, Than One Sale With a Ten-Spot In It.

WE expect every sale to lay the foundation for future business. We want business today, all we can get of it, but we want to build for next week, next month, and next year at the same time. And our idea of the way to do this is to give you the best and biggest value to be had, whether you pay $5 for your Suit or $20.

That we have succeeded in giving you value in the suits of ours is very evident. Just compare them with other suits—nothing like them anywhere at the same price. We are showing the spring styles in Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Alco System Clothes.
